GERMAN TROOPS NEEDED FOR DEFENSE

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Charles Ryan reports that his children are recovering from the accident they were involved in recently.

The little girl with the broken leg is out of her cast and is going back to school. She healed alright and no further difficulty is expected.

We are suffering from dinner houritis.

It goes like this. The first grader gets out for dinner at 11:00, the third grader at 11:20 and the eighth grader at 12:20.

The problem is to select the hour when everyone can eat dinner and still not be late for school in the afternoon.

The way it stands folks will be eating at our house from 11:00 o'clock on.

It will probably end up with them eating at school, which is the easiest way out.

If you've wondered what all the little fellows are doing carrying rugs to school, they take a rest during the day. Each one has his or her own rug and they rest a few minutes during the day.

One thing the heavy rain did was to wash a lot of the dirt off of streets where water and sewer lines have been put down.

Walter and Vera Hutchens have bought Farmer's Cafe. Those folks can cook so they should have something good on the menu. Mr. and Mrs. Farmer have done a good job running the cafe and it has been nice dealing with them while they were in business there.

The Hutchens' two boys are back home now, so it promises to be a family affair.

There are three schools on the corner of Maple and South Sixth street. Miss Rosemary Peterson has a dancing school in the American Legion building. Charles Ryan has an Airline Training School in the Berry Insurance Building and Mrs. Estelle Ezell has a beauty school in the same building.

Schools like that mean money for Murray too.

We hope they are all successful. Edgar Shirley built him a nice home on North Fourth street.

James Overbey is a new lawyer in Murray.

We also have a Chiropractor. A Chiropractor is a foot specialist and takes care of foot troubles. Dr. Stivers is his name.

Steal In Gold

LONDON — Police found the abandoned truck today which had a $112,000 in gold and a 20-second street robbery in the home of Britain's highest enforcement official.

But the bandits had vanished, presumably lugging with them two plain plank cartons full of bullion weighing more than 200 pounds.

The robbery took place in a little cobbled lane called Jockeys Fields right beside the residence of Home Secretary Sir David Maxwell Fyfe, overlord of Scotland Yard.

The bullion, consigned from Rothschild's Bank to the Swiss Union Bank in Amsterdam, had just been loaded aboard a KLM Royal Dutch Airlines truck standing in the lane when the bandits executed their brazen plan.

Western State Hospital Plans Celebration

Western State Hospital will officially observe its one-hundredth birthday on Sunday, September 26th, with afternoon festivities on the hospital lawn. On September 18th, 1854, the hospital received its first patients. Since then the hospital has grown to the extent that there are now over 2000 patients hospitalized there.

Dr. Frank M. Gaines, Commissioner, Department of Mental Health, will deliver the principal address for the occasion. His theme will be "The Kentucky Mental Health Program for the Next Ten Years."

Other speakers on the program with their subjects include Mr. Frank A. Yost, President of the Kentucky Mental Health Association, "Early History of Western State Hospital"; Dr. Gant Gaither, "What Western State Hospital Means to a Physician Practicing in Western Kentucky"; Judge Ira D. Smith, Circuit Court, "Important Legal Changes Regarding Our Mentally Ill People During the last 100 Years"; Mr. W. W. Henderson, Hopkinsville Historian, "What Western State Hospital Means to a Citizen of Western Kentucky."

The activities, beginning at 1:00 p.m., will include music, displays of hospital functions, refreshment booths, and entertainment for children and adults. There will also be guided tours through the hospital for interested parties. The speaking program will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Everyone is welcome to participate in this Centennial Celebration. Each person attending may sign a registration book for the occasion; this book will be on file permanently at the hospital.

Nixon Gives Answer To Stevenson

By WILLIAM M. BATES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has slammed back at Adlai E. Stevenson's criticism of GOP foreign and defense policies and the Democratic leader has taken a poke at administration "expediency."

The top Republican and Democratic campaigners fired their latest blast in the struggle for control of the 84th Congress in different parts of the Midwest Tuesday night.

Nixon said at Lansing, Mich., that the Eisenhower administration is dedicated to a goal of world "peace without surrender." He said that it would be "easy" to "blunder into war" or to win peace "by surrender."

In a speech billed as an answer to Stevenson's attack on the administration last week Nixon agreed that cuts have been made in foreign aid and defense spending. But by wise spending, he said, the nation is "stronger militarily than it has ever been before and we are capable of meeting aggression whenever and wherever it occurs."

Trusting Ike, Not Adlai
Nixon said President Eisenhower makes the final decision on what U.S. military strength should be and added: "I have greater faith in the President's judgment on this issue than that of Mr. Stevenson."

Addressing a "Turkey Day" audience in Worthington, Ohio, Tuesday, Nixon said that the Republicans in the past 20 months had halted the drift toward socialism in the United States.

"We have cut government expenses, reduced taxes, checked inflation and stabilized our economy while flatly rejecting socialist methods," Nixon said.

The vice president said the Republicans "have put the Reds on the run and have brought a new climate of morality and integrity to the federal government."

Stevenson 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, told a party rally at Indianapolis, Ind., Saturday that American leadership in the free world has deteriorated under GOP rule. He also criticized the administration for trimming military programs while the Communists expand theirs.

Charges "Expediency"
Stevenson centered his fire on one aspect of the administration in a speech Tuesday night at Bloomington, Ill. He pinned the "expediency" label on farm policy decisions by Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson and on the administration's dealings with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy R-Wis.

"Some Democrats have been waiting for the indignation reaction to such expediency by the Eisenhower administration from the GOP press that had backed Benson," Stevenson said. "But I am told we should wait a long time."

He said the "official attitude" toward McCarthy "apparently has not been wholly based on what is right and what is wrong." He accused the GOP National Committee of putting McCarthy on the stump when his popularity is up and keeping him under wraps when it is down.

Stengel Again Yankee Pilot

NEW YORK — Casey Stengel, who led the Yankees to a record-breaking five straight American League pennants and World Series championships, was named today to manage the club again for the next two seasons.

Stengel was re-hired for two years under the same salary and bonus arrangement, which can earn him $100,000 a year.

Next season will be his seventh as manager of the Yankees. He won the pennants and series championships his first five years and finished second to the Cleveland Indians this season.

Beans Grown Without Earth, Or Sun Part Of Atom Research Sets Up

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK — Beans growing in beads—that's the shape of things to come. No earth, not a crumb of earth and no sunlight, either but an abundance of beans.

Glass beads are put in plastic dishes, where they're bathed in water. Water contains hydrogen and oxygen. The beads also are bathed in air. Air contains carbon in the form of carbon dioxide.

Now put red kidney bean seeds among the beads. Add calcium, magnesium, potassium, sulphur, phosphorus, and nitrogen. Also add traces of zinc, iron, manganese, boron, copper, and molybdenum. Next concentrate fluorescent lights above the beads. We have to approach the intensity of sunlight to get this stew of chemicals bubbling.

Plants All Identical
The seeds sprout. They anchor their roots around the beads. In precisely 25 days every bean plant blossoms, and each has precisely the same number of blossoms. Ten days later each plant bears the same number of beans.

All this is going on in laboratories at the plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash., which is operated by the Atomic Energy Commission by the General Electric Company. Here we get to the subtler contours of the shape of things to come.

Plutonium results when uranium 238 is bombarded by neutrons in nuclear reactors, and plutonium is the active part of an atomic bomb. But this atom-splitting in nuclear reactors produces also "waste" by-products, such as strontium, cesium and, Yttrium.

Radioactivity Dangerous
They're all rare earth metals in nature, always combined with other elements. But when these

Methodist MYF To Hold Meeting

The Murray Sub-District M.Y.F. of the Methodist Church will meet at the city park in Murray Thursday night, September 23rd, at 7:30. This meeting at the city park is taking the place of the meeting that had been planned at the Kentucky Lake Park on Thursday night.

There will be a devotional period, a business session, and then a recreational period. Every M.Y.F. group is urged to attend this meeting.

and other elemental isotopes are "made" by transmutation in nuclear reactors, they're dangerous because they're both radioactive and, being elements, are practically indestructible.

No atomic scientist doubts that the day will come when nuclear reactors will provide the power for industry, for transportation, for just the ordinary living of ordinary people. When the day comes there will be large and ever increasing quantities of these dangerous and indestructible "waste" elements.

Accurate Measure
Dr. John H. Rediske, A.A. Scler and the associates in the vegetable laboratories at Hanford are "feeding" these elements to kidney beans... and to tomatoes, wheat, thistle, and barley. Because each chemical step in their growth and maturing is precisely controlled, the scientists can measure precisely what each "waste" element does to the plants and—more important—what the plants do with the "waste" element.

How much of each element do the plants "take up"—how radioactive do the plants become? That is the vital question. In making use of the vast potential for easier, better living in atomic energy, man would lose if he contaminated his earth with atomic "waste" elements. In the shape of things to come, that will be a problem. Rediske and Scler are getting the answers ready now.

Child Struck By School Bus Tuesday

Carolyn Ann Rust, 8 year old daughter of Mrs. Mary Rust of New Concord, was injured yesterday afternoon as she was returning home from school.

The bus which she was riding on was approaching Murray from New Concord. According to the child's mother, Carolyn got off the bus, and the bus pulled away. As she went behind the bus another bus going toward New Concord struck the child, information indicated.

Mrs. Rust said that the bumper of the school bus struck the child inflicting head, injuries and a broken limb.

NATO Chief Warns France Of Need For Germany In Plan

PARIS — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, North Atlantic Treaty Organization supreme commander, said today that Europe cannot be defended without German troops.

He warned France that, if she demands too many safeguards against German rearmament, she will block any effective security system.

France already has once kicked the props from under the West's plans for European defense by killing the European army plan which would have incorporated 500,000 German troops in a continental defense force.

Gruenther warned France against upsetting the applecart again on the eve of the departure of Premier Pierre Mendes-France for London where a nine-nation foreign ministers' conference on a new defense plan will open on next Tuesday.

The NATO commander cautioned against any attempt to establish what he called a "police state" system in West Europe to guard against the dangers arising from German rearmament.

LONDON — Western plans for German rearmament hit another snag today when the British Labor Party scrapped its policy of unqualified support of plans to include West German troops in West European defenses.

The party's National Executive Committee approved instead a vague resolution calling for "consultation with other European Socialist parties in an endeavor to draw up a common policy."

The European army plan was killed by France.

France now is pressing for widened British commitments to some new form of European defense setup which would eventually include German troops. The Labor party resolution fixes the threat of new obstacles to any such scheme.

The resolution suggests that whatever common policy eventually is formulated by Europe's Socialist parties should "consider how arrangements can best be made for a German contribution to collective security."

Death Of Stunt Driver Accidental And Not Suicide
MADISON, Wis. — Authorities ruled Tuesday that the death of a stunt driver who failed to jump from his car before it hurtled over a 65-foot cliff was accidental and not suicide.

Coroner Joseph Bloodgood said paint scraped off a guard onto the left front door indicated Kenneth Adams, 31, tried vainly to get the door open to jump.

Adams was killed Sunday before a stunned crowd of 500 persons. He was supposed to jump out of the old car just before it reached the edge of the cliff.

made" for a German contribution to collective security.

Death of EDC faced former Laborite Prime Minister Clement Attlee's Socialists with the necessity of taking a new stand on the German issue before the Labor party convention begins next week at the same time the nine-power London foreign ministers conference convenes to discuss German rearmament.

Political observers here interpreted the Socialist proposal for rearming Germany to be, in effect, a backdown by Attlee's ruling wing of the party aimed at "peaceful coexistence" with Aneurin Bevan's left wing Laborites.

France Premier Pierre Mendes-France announced today that he will leave for London and the nine-nation conference on Sunday, two days before the conference opens. This will give him an opportunity to make "preliminary contacts" with other delegates, his office explained.

Millions Led In Prayer By President

By UNITED PRESS

President Eisenhower led millions of Americans today in prayers for peace.

His appeal for a day of prayer for world amity received little support, however, from state and local officials.

Many mayors and governors even confessed that they weren't aware of Mr. Eisenhower's request. Only in Dallas was a special public observance made of the day of prayer.

However, in scores of other cities, ministers threw open the doors of their sanctuaries and citizens filed in individually to offer up their appeal for God to give men the spiritual strength to bring peace on earth.

Mr. Eisenhower set an example for the nation by going to chapel early today at Lowry Air Force Base.

In his proclamation, the President called for a day of prayer as "an act of faith so strong as to annihilate the cruel, artificial barriers erected by little men between the peoples who seek peace on earth through the Divine Spirit."

There were no reports of any employers giving workers time off so that they might attend church.

The President's appeal invited people of the Iron Curtain countries to join Americans in asking God to bring men international good will.

The Voice of America broadcast the appeal to Communist nations. It is estimated that there are 60 million Christians in Eastern European satellites and 50 million in Russia proper.

It was believed that many non-Catholic churches ignored the President's suggestion for prayer today in favor of a world-wide week of prayer, to be observed early next year, by the World Council of Churches.

At Dallas, the city's busiest street intersection was blocked to traffic for 20 minutes so lunch-hour throngs could pause and join together in prayer.

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner said he was in accord with the President's request and attended mass himself today, but Mr. Eisenhower's proclamation came too late for concerted plans.

The National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. commended the President's appeal, to its member churches, comprising Protestant, Anglican, Orthodox and other non-Catholic groups.

The Roman Catholic Diocese of New York said it noted the President's proclamation in its weekly bulletin and expected many churches to comply with it.

Jewish groups also participated in the day of prayer with the Synagogue Council of America recommending its observance.

Mr. Jones said that he wished to invite his many friends and former customers to visit the new station in the early future.

BAD GUESS
NEW YORK — Jig Blount, a subway change-maker, thought he had the perfect answer to large crap game losses until Tuesday.

He was held in $1,500 bail in Federal Court on a grand larceny charge that he had won 5,798 subway tokens and sold them on the sidewalk at cut rates.

The committee was authorized by the National Citizens for Eisen-

the request of Kentucky Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Republican candidate for re-election to the United States Senate.

Purpose of the state committee is to work with registered Demo-previously have not taken part in political parties but who now are supporting Cooper's campaign.

Cooper is running for re-elec-support of President Eisenhower, and the President has said that he needs Cooper in order to put the administration's program for the nation through Congress.

County headquarters were set up earlier this week at Paris in Bourbon County and at Lexington in Fayette County and at Louisville in Jefferson County and it is ex-

the state.

Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Anchorage,

president of the Danville Chamber of Commerce. A 1931 graduate of Centre College, Swain served as alumni secretary at the college for four years, 1930-34, and has headed the Danville newspaper for the past 10 years.

Cooper, the top Republican vote getter in Kentucky history, is touring Western and Central Kentucky this week after opening his campaign in Lexington Monday night.
Next week Cooper's speaking tour calls for him to appear in Central,

Little Chance That Russia Equal On Uranium Production

SAN FRANCISCO AP — An official of the Atomic Energy Commission said today there is "little chance" Russia has matched the free world in producing vital uranium despite its "feverish" effort and use of "slave labor."

Jesse C. Johnson, head of the AEC's Raw Materials Division, conceded Russia is an "unknown."
But he expressed considerable professional doubt that its uranium output is equal "even to that of the free world's leading producer," the Belgian Congo.

But in a speech before the American Mining Congress, Johnson spoke glowingly of America's own capacity to produce the all-important fuel of atomic bombs and power reactors.

"In six years, starting with nothing but uncertain prospects, the United States has become one of the world's leading uranium producers," he said. "We shall be competing for first place and part of the time be in first place."

Uranium already is at least a 100 million dollar U.S. industry, he reported. But he said "even greater expansion is just ahead" to meet the needs of atomic power plants which eventually will involve "billions of dollars" in investment and require nuclear fuel reserves "sufficient for at least 100 years."

"Studies by the commission and by large industrial firms working on the problem, indicated that within 10 years nuclear power will be competitive, at least in high cost power areas," he said.

A study made for the AEC.
Johnson revealed predicted that U.S.
nuclear power capacity will hit 12 million kilowatts by 1970, 42 million by 1980, and 100 million by 1990. And world capacity was estimated at double or triple these figures.

Swain Is Named Chairman Of Citizens For Ike-Cooper

Enos Swain, 44-year-old editor and general manager of the Danville Advocate-Messenger, has been appointed state chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower-Cooper in Kentucky.

The committee was authorized by the National Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee at the request of Kentucky Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Republican candidate for re-election to the United States Senate.

Purpose of the state committee is to work with registered Democratic and Independent voters who previously have not taken part in partisan politics but who now are supporting Cooper's campaign.

Has Ike's Support

Cooper is running for re-election with the full blessing and support of President Eisenhower, and the President has said that he needs Cooper in order to put the administration's program for the nation through Congress.

County headquarters were set up earlier this week at Paris in Bourbon County and at Lexington in Fayette County and at Louisville in Jefferson County and it is expected that other county citizens groups will be formed throughout the state.

Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Anchorage, an active leader in Louisville civic affairs, has been appointed state co-chairman in charge of the women's division of the citizens group. The organization's state headquarters have been set up at Danville.

Swain is the immediate past president of the Kentucky Press

ENOS SWAIN

Association and served in 1952 as president of the Danville Chamber of Commerce. A 1931 graduate of Centre College, Swain served as alumni secretary at the college for four years, 1930-34, and has headed the Danville newspaper for the past 10 years.

Cooper, the top Republican vote getter in Kentucky history, is touring Western and Central Kentucky this week after spending his campaign in Lexington Monday night.

Next week Cooper's speaking tour calls for him to appear in Central, Northern and Eastern Kentucky.

Little Chance That Russia Equal On Uranium Production

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An official of the Atomic Energy Commission said today there is "little chance" Russia has matched the free world in producing vital uranium despite its "fervent" effort and use of "slave labor."

Jesse C. Johnson, head of the AEC's Raw Materials Division, conceded Russia is an "unknown." But he expressed considerable professional doubt that its uranium output is equal "even to that of the free world's leading producer," the Belgian Congo.

But in a speech before the American Mining Congress, Johnson spoke glowingly of America's own capacity to produce the all-important fuel of atomic bombs and power reactors.

"In six years, starting with nothing but uncertain prospects, the United States has become one of the world's leading uranium producers," he said. "We shall be competing for first place and part of the time be in first place."

Uranium already is at least a 100 million dollar U.S. industry, he reported. But he said "even greater expansion is just ahead" to meet the needs of atomic power plants which eventually will involve "billions of dollars" in investment and require nuclear fuel reserves "sufficient for at least 100 years."

"Studies by the commission and by large industrial firms working on the problem, indicated that within 10 years nuclear power will be competitive, at least in high cost power areas," he said.

A study made for the AEC, Johnson revealed, predicted that U.S. nuclear power capacity will hit 12 million kilowatts by 1970, 42 million by 1980, and 100 million by 1990. And world capacity was estimated at double or triple these figures.

'HOT SPOT' OF THE FAR EAST

LOCATED ONLY A FEW MILES from the Red Chinese mainland is the island of Quemoy, the number one "hot spot" of the Far East. In recent weeks, the Communists have bombarded Quemoy and have given every indication that they are preparing to stage an amphibious assault on the Nationalist stronghold. At top, a soldier on the Quemoy garrison is shown beside the barbed wire, with which the island is plentifully draped. At bottom is a scene in the main street shopping center of the island of Quemoy. ## Hearings On Ruling Planned

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court announced today it will begin hearings Dec. 6 on detailed decrees to enforce its historic ruling outlawing segregation in public schools.

The court also announced that it has extended until Nov. 15 the deadline for interested states to file briefs or to request a chance to be heard in the December oral arguments. The previous deadline was Oct. 1.

Seven states have already stipulated the court they want to appear either in oral arguments or as interested parties at the hearing. They are North Carolina, Arkansas, Texas, Florida, Maryland, Tennessee, and Oklahoma.

Question for debate is how and when the Supreme Court will issue final orders for ending segregation of white and Negro students.

In handing down the anti-segregation ruling last spring, the court took note of its sweeping sociopolitical impact and took a substantial step of postponing actual enforcement decrees until after further hearings.

One of the big questions to be settled at the December session is whether states which now practice segregation should be given a substantial "grace period" in which to comply with the ruling.

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

THE TROUBLE was that Quincy didn't know whether or not she was really in love or if this was only a kind of weary desperation.

Yates did ask her to marry him, would she want to accept or would something cautious within her shy away from definiteness? She debated these questions while she lay in bed, not sleeping, and she heard the door open and her aunt coming in at the side door.

Given Aunt Maude to the hospital, the daily visit she would not receive, no matter what happened.

When she stepped at Quincy's door, she found him sitting up in bed, looking at her with a twisted smile.

"All I did was sit up, Quincy, on some waiting list," she said.

"You're still signed," he said. "They'll call you up before the committee all day. He couldn't come tonight. He was in the hospital again in the morning."

"Now they're implying things about that Nichols business in Baltimore, hinting that Uncle Elihu and Josh Henning were part of it."

"Whatever it was, I don't care. I don't know what to believe. I don't know what to believe. I don't know what to believe."

"I don't know what to believe," she said. "I don't know what to believe. I don't know what to believe."

by the time he had set letters the investigation could be over and all the trouble and unfavorable publicity forgotten, just another flash sensation cheap politicians contrived for their own aggrandizement.

"Your father seems not to be worried by this absurd business," she wrote, aware that she was stretching the truth a little. "His morale is fine."

Maude had her way, eventually. On a cold Sunday, the last in November, an ambulance arrived, delivering Ruthford Storey and a male nurse. The big guest room was warmed and aired, and Maude had ordered a bowl of roses and had a small radio installed. Ruthford did not so much as look at the flowers, and when Kelly came in, cold and weary from standing all during the long ride on the bus, she snapped at her: "Turn that thing off!"

His mother, looking dashed and apologetic, rushed to silence the radio.

"I mean to have television for you," she explained. "But if we get the elevator in you'll be able to get downstairs all day." Ruthford did not comment on this except for a grunt, so Maude turned to Kelly. "You're having Gil's old room, Kelly. We'll stay with Ruthford while you arrange your things."

"That will not be necessary, Mrs. Storey," said the young man in white. "I will attend to everything for Mr. Storey."

Penn went downstairs and met Alameda in the hall. "There's a young man, Miss Penn. He wants to see you. He's in the library."

A strange young man stood in the middle of the rug in the library as Penn went in. He wore no hat, his jaunty overcoat swung loosely. He had quick, intent eyes and a small moustache.

Penn said: "You wanted to see me?"

He nodded. "You're Penn Houk? I'm Larry Kissel, a friend of Gil's. Newspaper bureau. Can we talk somewhere—alone?"

"Why—I don't know." She looked about her, uncertainly. Aunt Maude might come in at any minute. Or Quincy.

"How about my car?" he suggested. "It's a rented car, but the heater works."

"I'll get my coat." She flew for it, and they walked out through the chilly dark to the car.

"I'm one of Gil's oldest friends, Miss Houk," Kissel explained. "I served aboard ship with him. Before Gil went away, he and I had a long talk. He opened the door and helped her in, went around to the other side and laid in beside her. "Gil told me that if I mean—he wanted me to come to you and tell you first of all. Even before anything was confirmed. I have special sources of information. Have to have, on my job."

"And you've heard a rumor?" Penn asked in a whisper. "About my uncle?"

"Not about your uncle. That House investigation adjourned today. This came from old Navy friends, who have to remain anonymous because the rumor is dangerously secret."

"The submarine?" she choked. "Nothing's definite," he hastened to assure her. "It's being kept under very close wraps at the moment."

Buffet Style Dinner Served At Bedwell Home By Kirksey 4-H Club Girls On Friday

The Kirksey 4-H club girls completed a food project by serving a buffet style dinner to their mothers Friday evening at seven o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ocus Bedwell. The ages of the girls ranged from eleven to thirteen.

The girls have been working under the leadership of Mrs. Kenneth Palmer with the assistance of Mrs. Cecil Like and Mrs. Ocus Bedwell for the past eight weeks with one lesson each week.

The group started the Foods Project by planning menus learning how to combine food; according to color, taste, texture and keeping in mind the Daily Seven Chart that they had studied. After this meeting of studying some of the basic steps the group started preparing dishes, the first being creamed dishes, learning the importance of milk in their daily diet and using it as many ways as possible. The ones who said, "I don't like milk" at the beginning of the class are now drinking and using it the same as the others had already been doing.

By this time they were ready to prepare a one dish meal. The girls again used milk in another form, which was cottage cheese. New tastes were once more developed. Cheese was used in other ways to make up the composition of a one dish meal. Other protein foods were used in this lesson.

The girls learned that the attractiveness of a meal was one of the most important points to remember in meal planning and preparation. Each girl prepared a different salad using many home made salad dressings that they had learned to make adding color as well as food value to the meal.

The favorite lesson of all was the following lesson which consisted of "desserts galore." Each girl made a different one at the meeting which ranged from a soft custard to brownies.

Breads was the next topic of study. Again each girl made a different one: cornmeal muffins, Southern Spoon bread, all types of biscuits, orange and banana bread.

The following lesson was on table service and etiquette. The girls learned the proper way to set a table using crystal, salad plate, bread and butter plate and spreader, as many as four spoons, knife and two forks. The lady-like way of eating and serving was discussed. The duties of a host and hostess and the guest's etiquette were studied.

The final meeting was this very delicious well prepared meal Friday night. The girls planned the menu which consisted of: Chicken Salad, Peas, art. Sauce, Pineapple Salad, Rolls, Butter, Iced Tea and Bread Pudding with Whip Cream.

They served the meal buffet style with Sandra Bedwell and Annette Palmer acting as hostesses at the table. The buffet table was beautifully decorated with a white table cloth and a center piece of roses in a crystal bowl. Those participating in the class were: Janet Like, Annette Palmer, Linda Compton, Sandra Bedwell, Fay Patton, Kay Tucker, Judith Innes, Darrylin Treas, and Norma Doores. The mothers attending the dinner were: Mesdames Cecil Like, Kenneth Palmer, Ocus Bedwell, Fred Patton, Thad Innes, H. E. Treas and Brooks Doores. Also present were Miss Rachel Rowland, home demonstration agent and Mrs. Mary Anna Batts, assistant home demonstration agent.

Mrs. N. A. Waldrop Program Leader At Hazel WSCS Meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Hazel Methodist Church held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at seven o'clock at the church.

Mrs. T. S. Herron gave the devotional reading from Psalms 127. "In charge of the program for the evening was Mrs. N. A. Waldrop. "Because Jesus Cared" was the subject of the panel discussion with Mrs. Waldrop, Mrs. Claude Anderson and Mrs. Robert Taylor participating. The purpose of the discussion was to indicate some of the conditions with in cities that separate people from the spirit of God.

Mrs. Robert Taylor, chairman, presided over a short business session at which time she gave a very interesting report of the District Seminar which was held at the Murray First Methodist Church September 10.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. T. S. Herron.

Wear-Helm Class Has Dinner Meeting At Church Friday

The Wear-Helm Sunday School class of the First Christian Church met Friday at noon for a dinner meeting in the dining room of the church.

Special recognition was given one of the members, Mrs. Charlie Shroat, whose birthday came on the day of the meeting. After thanks had been led by Mrs. J. H. Coleman and each one had served her plate from the long table and assembled for the meal, a large birthday cake iced in white with decorations of green and pink was placed in front of Mrs. Shroat and all present joined in singing "Happy Birthday." Birthday napkins were used.

Following the meal, the group remained seated around the table for the program. The president, Mrs. Cordie Fair, presided.

Miss Lula Holland conducted the devotion. Inspirational poems, quotations, and remarks were given by Mrs. Annie Wear, Mrs. Effie Duguid, and Mrs. Coleman. The benediction was by Mrs. Claude Rowland.

Regrets were expressed that two of the most faithful members, Mrs. Lou Johnson and Mrs. Sallie Humphrey, were unable to attend. Wishes were expressed for their speedy recovery.

There were two guests, Mrs. J. Harry Utterback and Mrs. Goldie McKel Curd, present. Other members present were Mrs. Otis Churchill, Mrs. Lola Jones, Mrs. Edd Utterback, Mrs. Willie Wells, Mrs. Mary Starks, Miss Frankie Holland, Mrs. Billie McKel and Mrs. Ben Schroeder.
